CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

LAMBDA ALPHA NATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP and LAMBDA ALPHA GRADUATE RESEARCH GRANTS

Dear Chapter Sponsors:

Attached are the Lambda Alpha National Scholarship and Graduate Research Grants application guidelines. We encourage all chapters to submit nominees: one senior nominee per chapter for the Scholarship; and one graduate student for each of the three sub-disciplines: archeology, biological/physical anthropology, and cultural/linguistic anthropology per chapter. All applicants must be anthropology majors. These are limited and closed competitions with a sizable award. A well-qualified candidate has a reasonable chance to win.

To ensure a quality set of candidates, potential applicants will be allowed to join the honor society and apply for the awards. All new members must be inducted into their chapter by submitting their chapter sponsor signed membership form and $25 lifetime membership fee before the application deadline of March 1, 2022. Please do not include membership items in the awards application packet, but mail in a separate envelope to the National Office.

A complete application consists of paper copies of all requested documents and one digital pdf file of all requested documents for the application. We prefer if the application is in one pdf file not a separate file for each requested document. Please include the applicants name in the pdf file name. Also please be sure your students request their transcripts ahead of time. Last year we had numerous applications that lacked the official transcripts by the March 1 deadline.

Sincerely,
Dr. Mark D. Groover
National Executive Secretary

LAMBDA ALPHA NATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP

Your chapter may send forward only ONE candidate for this award. The Lambda Alpha National Scholarship will be awarded to a graduating senior in the current academic year (2021-2022). The scholarship nominees must be majoring in anthropology. The winner of the scholarship will be announced in April or May 2022. This scholarship is intended to help pay for the students graduate education costs.

As a requirement for your candidate's participation in the Scholarship award competition, the chapter sponsor must forward to the National Office before the March 1st deadline, of the following materials printed front-to-back and stapled, with NO covers/folders:

1. A letter of nomination from the department or appropriate academic unit stating the candidate is applying for the National Scholarship.
2. Curriculum vitae.
3. A statement signed by the applicant, located on page 3, giving permission to the National Executive Council to view submitted transcripts.
4. One original copy of transcript of all undergraduate institutions.
5. Two (2) supporting letters of recommendation – one must be from a professional anthropologist.
6. A statement of future professional plans limited to one page or less, single spaced.
7. A document must be submitted in manuscript form, double spaced, 10-20 pages in length, ready for consideration for publication in the Lambda Alpha Journal. The purpose of submitting a paper is to evaluate formal writing skill, and an ability to compose a research paper. Original thesis manuscripts, previously published papers, co-authored publications, and contract archaeological reports are not acceptable. The manuscript's pdf file will be sent to the Editor-In-Chief, Dr. Peer Moore-Jansen for consideration in the Lambda Alpha Journal via Melanie Cabak of the National Office.
8. The complete application must be submitted digitally to laanthro@gmail.com by midnight on March 1, 2021. The paper copy of the application must be post marked by March 1.

Please mail the paper copy of the application to:

LAMBDA ALPHA GRADUATE RESEARCH GRANTS

The Graduate Research Grant is designed to encourage thesis field research. Request for financial support for travel, basic field equipment, and on-location labor costs would be favored. The grant cannot be used for indirect expenses. The funds of $2000 will be awarded annually to each of the three sub-disciplines: archeology (two grants for $2000); biological/physical anthropology (two grants for $2000); and cultural/linguistic anthropology (two grants for $2000) with the maximum of one applicant per discipline, per chapter. The application must clearly state the sub-discipline the grant candidate is applying for (archaeology, biological/physical anthropology and cultural/linguistics). Unused grant money is to be refunded to Lambda Alpha. The winners of the competition will be announced in April/May 2022.

Applicants must:

1. Be a lifetime member of Lambda Alpha.
2. Be enrolled in the graduate program in their department for at least one academic year.
3. Have selected their thesis advisor.
4. Have formally formed thesis or dissertation on an anthropological topic.
5. Have their advisor agree to be responsible for the dispersal of the grant funds to the student, possibly in conjunction with the university's research office.

Their chapter sponsor or thesis advisor must forward to the National Office before the postmarked March 1st deadline of the following materials printed front-to-back and stapled, with NO covers/folders:

1. A letter of nomination and support stating the sub-discipline of the applicant.
2. Curriculum vitae.
3. One original and 3 copies of transcript of all undergraduate/graduate institutions. Please complete and include the attached authorization on page 5.
4. A statement of financial responsibility from either their thesis advisor or thesis committee chairman containing their name and mailing address – use the attached authorization on page 5.
5. The applicant's thesis/dissertation proposal is to be in manuscript form and no longer than 5 pages double-spaced. In addition to the five pages, the proposal must include an itemized budget for no more than $2000 and any references cited.
6. 6. The entire application must be submitted digitally to laanthro@gmail.com by midnight on March 1st 2022. We also request one paper copy of the application to be mailed to the National Office; postmarked by March 1st 2022.

Please mail 1 copy of the application to:
